The DIMMER VIEW

New Weapon in Soviet Arsenal?

The best and worst features of a democracy is the change of administration.

For the citizens of a democracy change is good. It's a chance to throw the rascals out and put aside all the stupidities of the previous administration.

As for world politics, it's bad.

It gives world powers a chance to test the backbone of a new administration with impunity. It is like the new boy in the neighborhood. The neighborhood bully tests him. If the new boy backs down, the bully will completely subordinate him as long as he lives there. The bully could also contrive a stand-off and not lose face.

Jimmy Carter is the new boy in the world neighborhood.

The bully is testing him.

The bully, of course, is Russia.

The test is so heavy-handed that it is a surprise, of a sort, that the Soviets are being taken seriously.

It started soon after Carter was elected. In December the Russians leaked a story to the public in a NEWSWEEK item late in November, that the Soviets used laser beams to destroy one American space satellite and damage another.

According to NEWSWEEK, an early warning satellite and a companion satellite used to relay signals to earth were hit by a single Soviet laser over the Indian Ocean during the year past. The early warning satellite "went blind" and the relay satellite was destroyed.

PENTHOUSE Magazine reported that the attack took place in the spring of 1976 and was not publicized so as not to jeopardize a series of strategic arms pact talks being negotiated with Russia at the time.

According to the U.S. Press Assn., the U.S. denied these reports as its official position, but denials are half-hearted and unconvincing. The damage was admitted, other causes were suggested, but it was acknowledged that the Russian lasers could have been responsible. Because of the official position of our government, it was proper to report the story.

But there are reasons to approach the story with question. Assuming that it did happen, is the bully trying to push the new U.S. regime in a position of subordination? Would the revelation in the national magazine force the administration to assure the American people that we, too, have such a device? Would that bring up more questions through which the Soviets could acquire intelligence as the administration explains to the people that American scientists have not been resting on their laurels—that we, too, have a destructive capability equal to or better than Ivan's?

Only the joint chiefs of staff know for sure. They also know the full implication of the attack. Neither they nor the President seem unduly alarmed by the report. If alarm continues to rise the public's concern must be put to rest. If the implication is as grave as it could be, the public must be warned to expect the worst. How could it be done without revealing to the Soviets how unprepared we are is a near impossible task?

The U.S. Press says that it is important to note that the satellites attacked are those used to police the 1972 strategic arms pact between the U.S. and the Soviet Union. The PENTHOUSE article said the western specialists are perplexed by the Soviet effort to interfere with the American satellites but their perplexity is hard to understand.

Even assuming that the U.S. is developing an anti-satellite capability and can reply in kind, the mutual binding on both sides in space would be very much to the U.S.S.R.'s advantage. There is not a great deal the Soviets can learn from space reconnaissance that they cannot discover by reading U.S. newspapers. Space photography, on the other hand is important to the U.S. intelligence about Soviet weapons developments.

Actually, there is no difference between space weapons and the more conventional types. They are weapons of competition. A ceaseless contest must be waged between offense and defense—to protect as well as destroy.

We assume that protection of our satellites from enemy attack is receiving top priority.

This requirement poses an obstacle if cuts are made in our defense budget.

New Fire Code Brings All-County Inspections

A new fire code for unincorporated areas takes effect on February 19.

It requires local fire departments to make fire inspections of all buildings except one and two family homes.

All other buildings from triplex through commercial and industrial will be inspected by members of the fire jurisdiction in which the building is situated.

There are 22 districts in the unincorporated areas of the county. The S.D. County Board of Supervisors adopted its first fire code on January 19. The code becomes operative in 30 days of the date of adoption.

Inspections will be conducted by fire marshals of each district.

In Lemon Grove, Fire Marshal John Ott noted that such districts have never had local fire prevention enforcement before—other than the State Code Title 19 which restricts investigation and enforcement.

The Board of Supervisors is in the process of developing documents of authorization by which the various jurisdictions would enforce the new code under the authority of the Board of Supervisors.

List Omitted

The list of candidates in the five area races is omitted this week to accommodate interviews with 9 of the candidates. The list will appear next week along with more interviews.

Group Calls Hospital Trip Hazardous

Grossmont-8 Underpass Asked

By Max Goodwin

A program to reduce travel time from the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley areas to Grossmont Hospital appears to have a chance of becoming successful—even though three levels of government are involved.

The program, briefly, would punch two tunnels beneath Hwy 8 from La Mesa Blvd. to Grossmont Center dr. That would permit vehicles from south of 8 (Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and Casa de Oro) to avoid what CALTRANS described as "... the most heavily traveled facility in San Diego County—route 8 between 805 and La Mesa.

If the three government levels can come into agreement the improvement is still four years away. Proponents have good reason to believe that it will be approved since it has long since been approved by U. S. Department of Transportation, California Department of Transportation, and the California Department of Health.

While Grossmont Hospital officials and supporters are the ramrods of the project, it would not cost the district anything. Funds already earmarked for the project according to Ronald Dalgren, Grossmont Hospital Administrator, are $16-$18 million in federal funds; $2 million state funds and a half million of City of La Mesa funds.

Called Bottleneck

Dick Allen, president of the S.V. Fire Protection District is one of the members of the group seeking an early resolution to Grossmont bottleneck at Grossmont summit.

"The development of I-125

(from Spring Valley through Grossmont Summit and on to Ramona) was to have been finished 8 years ago. Lack of state funds delayed the project. The Grossmont tunnel is already on improvement plans of I-125. The difficulty our ambulance vehicles have in getting to the hospital makes it an emergency need."

Doctor Speaks

Dr. Simon Brumbaugh, senior physician of the Lemon Grove Medical Group and former Grossmont Chief of Staff, said, "Those of us who make the trip to Grossmont Hospital—sometimes several times in one day—are appalled by the traffic hazards.

"We get reports of emergency vehicles requiring as much as 8 minutes to get from the 94 (south of State 8) off-ramp to the hospital. That is a terrible waste of time when an emergency exists. Even then, the complex traffic pattern and the heavy traffic are hazards that should not be added to a hospital patient's trip."

He noted that his senior patients are reluctant to go to Grossmont because friends and relatives fear the traffic. Consequently, they do not visit as often as they might.

Streets Improved

George F. Bailey, councilman, City of La Mesa said,

"We have improved local streets to Grossmont Hospital to the fullest extent possible. We recognize that the seriousness of the problem faced by patients coming from all directions. We know that the traffic volume at Grossmont Summit (where 94 and 8 merge) was predicted to reach 76,228 vehicles a day when I-125 was planned. Actually, it was 132,000 vpd. One month the total reached 166,000 vpd.

9 Deficient Ramps

There are 9 ramps that are used to or from Grossmont, that have noted deficiencies. These hazards include left-hand exit movements; short accelerations lanes; short weaving distances; inadequate sight distances to nose of ramp and inside and outside shoulder drops in conjunction

No-Growth For County Services

D. D. Miller, community relations representative to 2nd District Supervisor Lucille Moore, told the 100-or so persons that County government has quit providing urban services in unincorporated areas although it takes no position on Lemon Grove's incorporation.

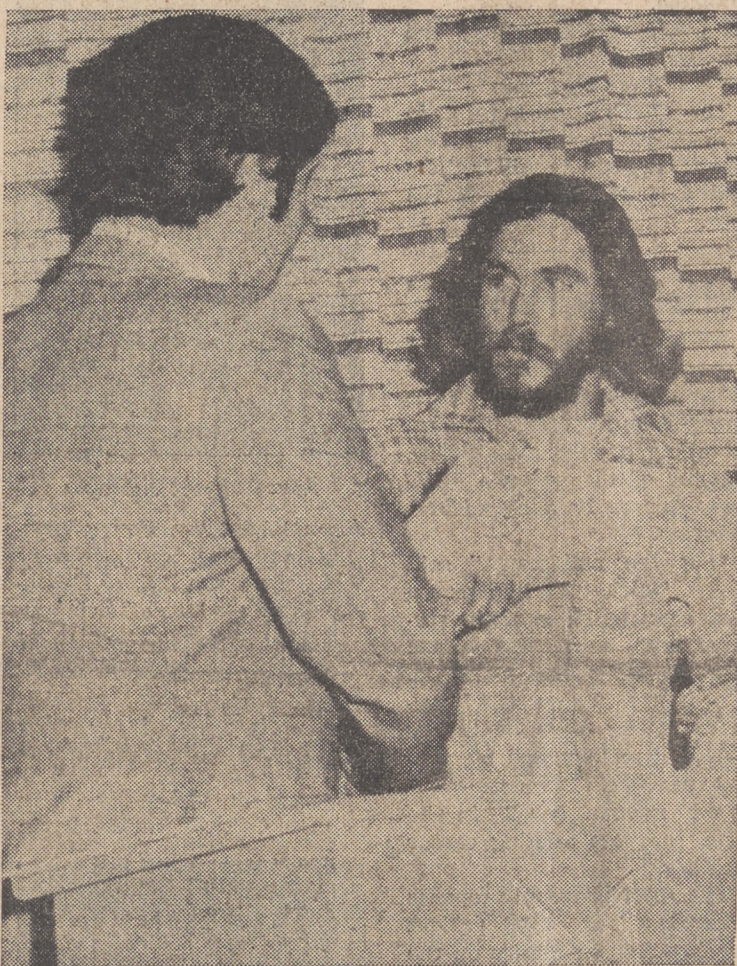

He said that any services that are added will come from property tax by way of a special district. Some services not now provided could be provided by a L.G. city out of sales tax incomes which now goes to the county, he said.

The meeting was sponsored by the Committee for Incorporation and was at Palm Junior High School Monday night.

council candidates. Each will be allowed to speak two minutes.

Quittner said the League planned following the city council candidates an informal conversation hour beginning at 8:45 p.m.

"We hoped by having the informal hour of conversation," said Quittner, "it would give everyone the chance to talk to whatever candidate they were most interested in. If someone wants to discuss incorporation or talk to a particular candidate they will be able to do so."

CITIZEN CITED — Ronald A. Jackson (right) of Spring Valley, receives a Certificate of Appreciation from Sheriff John F. Duffy for apprehending a felony auto theft suspect attempting to escape from a deputy sheriff.

Spring Valley Citizen Wins Sheriff's Award

A Spring Valley man was cited by the Sheriff's Department recently for his voluntary participation in the apprehension of a felony suspect near his home. The man is Ronald A. Jackson of 9424 Crest dr.

Sheriff's records show that on November 16 Deputy Douglas R. Hulse was pursuing a stolen car southbound on Lamar st. in Spring Valley when the car suddenly stopped and two suspects dashed from the vehicle and ran into a heavily overgrown canyon. Deputy Hulse fired three shots into the air hoping the suspects would stop. They did not.

Jackson, who lives nearby, heard the siren about 7 p.m. but paid little attention to it until he heard the shots. He grabbed his flashlight and went outside where he saw a man emerging from the canyon.

Believing him to be someone the deputy was chasing, pursued the man and held him until a sheriff's unit arrived. He had given no thought to the possibility that the man might be armed.

As a result of the apprehension a number of automobile thefts was cleared.

Sheriff John Duffy, in his citation, noted that Jackson's disregard for his own safety and his willingness to become involved in assisting law enforcement officials in preserving peace and order in the community were highly commendable.

Valle de Oro Group Will Meet Next Wed.

The Citizen's Executive Committee, Valle de Oro Planning Program will hold a regular meeting 7:30 p.m. Wednesday February 15 in room 1002, Monte Vista High School, 3230 Sweetwater Springs Blvd., Spring Valley.

The agenda includes committee reports on County policy I-1 and several housing developments including Dictionary Hill, Crestwood and Cottonwood Hills.

Policy I-1 is concerned with the powers granted to the Citizens Committee. The Committee is trying to change this to get more power. The Citizen's for a Rural Environment are expected to attend and make a presentation against the Dictionary Hill housing projects.

Sups Petition Feds To Change Flood Designation For S. Valley

The County Board of Supervisors last week recommended to the Federal Flood Insurance Administration (FIA) to drop an earlier decision to require flood insurance for the area around Spring Valley Creek.

Previously the area was tentatively classified A-zone which slaps mandatory regulations on some 600 homeowners to buy flood insurance.

The Board of Supervisors recommended the area be changed from A-zone to B-zone which removes the insurance requirement.

The area was classified flood-prone by studies done nearly two years ago. Those studies are now considered inaccurate.

Deputy director of the County Department of Sanitation and Flood Control Norman Magnuson said the plan to reclassify the area has "better than a 50-50 chance" when the FIA reviews its decision sometime in April or May.

"We looked at flood maps of two years ago and decided they were inaccurate," Magnuson said, "I would appear we've given them sufficient information to change the flood classification."

"If this gets changed by the Feds," Magnuson explained, "it will remove the mandatory requirement to buy flood insurance."

"We think," the Deputy added, "people should have insurance on the contents of their homes in this area."

James Dorman, 40, a Lemon Grove attorney, lives at 7615 Circle dr. with his wife Jennifer and their three children. Two of the youngsters are in Lemon Grove schools and the other starts next year.

Dorman, a member of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District Board of Directors for the past five years, is the current president. He is a six year member of the Lemon Grove School District governing board and is its past president. He is now vice president.

Dorman has been a member of the L.G. Lions club for 11 years and is past president of that organization. He is one of the founders and past president of the popular Old Time Days celebration held annually in Lemon Grove. He formed the corporation by which it operates.

He joined his father and uncle in the law firm of Dorman and Dorman 11 years ago at which time he joined the L.G. Chamber of Commerce and has served three two-years terms as a director.

He is a member of the State and County Bar Associations. He was the first chairman of the Lemon Grove Planning Association, a post he held for three years.

He has been a leader in the local United Way Drive each year and L.G. chairman two years. He is presently on the U.W. Volunteer Bureau Council.

A local newspaper chose him as "Man of the Year" in 1971.

Dorman has been active in the Lemon Grove incorporation drive and has been on the Committee for Incorporation since its inception. He acted as spokesman for incorporation before the Board of Supervisors and at LAFCO (Local Agency Formation Commission).

His military service consisted of 4 years active duty in the Marine Corps, 14 months overseas, and he attained the rank of captain in the Artillery.

"I have lived in Lemon Grove 33 years and I have seen boundaries of the community shrink from over ten square miles to its present 3.75 in order to defend the integrity of our boundaries from further loss, incorporation has become important to the way of life in our community."

"I have served the community in many ways during

Greater Complexity Needs Less Space

Church Hears Plans For City of the Future

Richard Register, who lives in Arcosanti and works with Paolo Soleri, will describe life in the "city of the future" at the First Unitarian Church, 4190 Front st., on Friday, February 11, at 7:30 in Bard Hall. Through slides and lecture Register will convey Soleri's ideas about the history of cities, solar energy, and the solution to urban sprawl.

The "city", which embodies Soleri's concept of urban growth upward instead of outward, has attracted thousands of visitors and more than 2,000 volunteer workers like Register since it began to rise in the Arizona desert between Flagstaff and Phoenix in 1970.

Most of them, instead of receiving salaries, pay for the privilege of working at back-breaking jobs for a six-week "seminar".

Admittedly idealistic, Soleri feels that his concept is based solidly on laws of nature.

"Organisms of greater and greater complexity take up smaller and smaller spaces," said Soleri, "if the city is to become a collection of individuals creatively interacting with one another, it must not sprawl out and isolate men by placing unnecessary distances between them."

"As urban architecture," write Douglas Davis in Newsweek, "Arcosanti is probably the most important experiment undertaken in our lifetime."

L.G. Man Marks 102nd Birthday

An ice cream-and-cake birthday party was held Sunday to honor the 102nd birthday of William H. West, a long-time Lemon Grove resident who lives with his stepson, Henry Eckler and his wife Maxine at 52 Mt. Vernon st.

In previous years a great number of friends attended the parties but after the 100th celebration, two years ago, the Ecklers decided to restrict the affairs to close relatives.

West was born in England and moved to Lemon Grove in 1911 where he became a rancher raising lemons and chickens.

Part of his ranch was the property now occupied by Palm Avenue Junior High School.

Eckler says that outside of West's eyesight failing, his physical and mental condition is good. West has never been in a hospital in the 102 years of his life.

Teachers Unionize LA

BURLINGAME — The California Teachers Association's president has patted union forces on the back after they won an election for supremacy in Los Angeles area schools.

Stephen H. Edwards Jr., president of the state's 152,000 member association, said the recent bargaining election victory of the United Teachers of Los Angeles over the Professional Educators of Los Angeles was a "crippling blow to so-called professional educator groups that have opposed collective bargaining for teachers."

"Teachers are rejecting the professional educator groups out-of-hand because a vote for these groups is tantamount to a vote for no representation," Edwards explained. "Teachers want to bargain. They do not want to go back to the good old paternalistic days espoused by these so-called professional educator groups."

In Los Angeles, the CTA backed United Teachers of Los Angeles tallied 12,882 votes to 3,755 for the Professional Educators of Los Angeles.

Edwards said the UTLA was a merger of teacher association and teacher union groups.

This Week's RECIPE Piping-Hot Moussaka

By Susanne Williams

For politicians it could be a nightmare to bring Greeks, Turks, Persians and Albanians together at one table, but for local chefs no task could be easier. Their secret is a dish that, with variations, is indigenous to all Balkan countries; and a piping hot Moussaka might just be your solution to family squabble of chicken vs. steak. You want to start your peace mission with the following:

- 1 pound minced lamb or hamburger
- 4 eggplants
- garlic salt
- 1 lemon, squeezed
- 1 pound tomatoes
- 1 cup yoghurt, 2 onions, salt, pepper
- 3 eggs
- 1 tbl. spoon flour

Wash eggplants, remove stems. Brown 1/4-inch slices on both sides in hot oil, remove from pan and salt and pepper from both sides. Saute onions and garlic salt, add meat and chopped tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste. Grease baking dish with oil and put down first layer of eggplant slices. Add meat mixture and juice of half a lemon. Top with second layer of eggplant and layer of meat mixture and second half of lemon juice. Mix in yoghurt with eggs, salt and pepper and pour over dish. Heat in over over medium heat for 45 to 50 minutes. Serve with tossed salad and an appropriate adage. For four.

Rabies Outbreak May Follow Drop In Border Aid

Due to termination of a Federal program assisting Mexican officials to control rabies in border areas, S.D. County residents are being urged to vaccinate their pets.

"We don't as yet have a problem, but with the cancellation of Federal assistance to Mexico for rabies control we expect an increase of the disease in San Diego County. Rabies doesn't recognize jurisdictional borders. Both S.D. County and Mexico are rabies areas," said Dr. Hubert Johnstone, veterinarian for S.D. County.

The reported cases of rabies in S.D. County are low, with seven cases in 1976 and six in 1975, none of the cases involved dogs.

"But when you consider that there were over 7,000 reported cases of animals (mostly cats and dogs) biting people in the county last year, rabies control in S.D. County is very important," said Dr. Johnstone.

Rabies is a viral infection that can be contracted by any warm blooded animal. Dogs can carry the disease up to six months before it reaches the stage where it can be transmitted to humans.

"Once the disease reaches the saliva glands (the infectious stage) the dog has about ten days to live. If a person is bitten by a dog or cat it only needs to be quarantined for a period of five days and examined by a veterinarian," said Johnstone.

It is no longer necessary to keep the animal alive if it is suffering to determine if it has rabies. According to Johnstone if the rabies has reached the transmissible stage it can be determined by testing the animal's brain.

There are two stages or types of rabies in dogs, the ferocious form and the dumb form. In the ferocious form the dog will bite anything that moves. The dumb form is an advanced form of the disease but the animal is less vicious. In the dumb form the animal is dazed and its hind legs usually become paralyzed.

"When a human is bitten by an animal suspected to have rabies, treatment is usually started immediately. If the animal proves not to be rabid the treatment is stopped," said Dr. Johnstone.

The painful side effects of the rabies treatment has been greatly reduced with the introduction of a new type of vaccine. The vaccine is produced using a dead rabies virus, grown in duck eggs. The side effects are minimal to most people except those allergic to eggs.

Dogs are required to be vaccinated when they are licensed but cats are not. However, both can contract the disease.

Rabies vaccinations can be given to your pet by a veterinarian or rabies vaccinations are available at the County of San Diego animal shelters. Hours and locations for the County rabies vaccination clinics can be obtained by calling the Central County Animal Shelter at 297-4763 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. and Saturdays and Sundays from 9 a.m. to noon.

The San Diego County Veterinary Medical Association is also sponsoring clinics. These clinic hours and locations can be obtained by calling 466-3400.

Note about this auction:
Iran, the largest producer of handwoven carpets, and rugs, has been a backward, slow-moving country for centuries. Suddenly, with the advent of industry, oil, and free education, it zoomed to the 20th Century. As a result, the children, who were the majority of the weavers, were lured away from the ancient art of weaving. In our opinion, this great art will soon be lost and so scarce that today European collectors and dealers are rushing to America to collect these beautiful carpets.

A beautiful collection of genuine handwoven Persian and Oriental Rugs is being offered at auction to the highest bidder. Included are KERMAN, KASHAN, ARDEBIL, AFGHAN, BOKHARA, TABRIZ, BELOUCH, AFSHAR, QUME, INDIAN, and many other collector's pieces.

Mayon Beats Onate Again At Coliseum

Miguel 'Mike' Mayon barely squeaked by Basilio Onate in a 10-round lightweight prize-fight Friday night at the S.D. Coliseum.

It was not quite so close as it was when the two met in a holiday match. Mayon couldn't drop Onate but he managed to bring blood to his face when Onate's chin was cut. Stitches were required.

Lemon Grove's light heavyweight — Gary Gahn — who admits he grew careless during his encounter with David Wynne in December when he was knocked out in the fourth round, did it again. He was knocked out in the fourth round of their battle scheduled for six.

It wasn't carelessness this time. It was power. Gahn came in at 178. Wynne was 190. Gahn's left eye was closed and his right was bruised. The referee stopped the fight in the fourth.

Junior lightweight Santiago Meza of Tijuana, 129 won a split decision over Miguel Ruiz of Tijuana, 129½.

Promoter Danny Millsap has set another card at the Coliseum for February 25. Tentatively booked are Jimmy Hear, a popular lightweight who once fought a series of exciting battles here. He will have Basilio "Chilo" Onate as an opponent.

An unusual added attraction will be a bout between two women — lightweight division.

Dispute Shakes Griff Cage Team

What once was considered to be one of the most successful men's basketball teams ever to play at Grossmont has suddenly turned into a drawn-out campaign.

Coach Felix Rogers' Griffins dropped two more South Coast Conference decisions last week, losing to Orange Coast College Wednesday, 73-62, and Saturday to Cerritos, 91-79. The Griffins have now lost five straight leaving them with a conference record of 1-6 and a season mark of 14-12.

Grossmont's problems mounted a bit last week when sophomore starters Jim Jollett, Ruben Ray and Bob Baxter walked out of Monday's practice after a disagreement with coach Felix Rogers.

The trio did not participate in the Orange Coast game, but they did return in time to play in a reserve role Saturday at Cerritos.

Padres vs. Tj For Charity

The San Diego Padres will provide a squad of players for a special benefit in Tijuana on Sunday, February 20 with several players off the current major league roster taking part.

The Padre contingent will be headed up by pitchers, Dan Spillner, Clary Kirby, Dave Freisleben, Alan Foster and Brent Strom as well as first baseman Mike Ivie, second baseman Mike Champion and outfielder Bobby Valentine. The rest of the squad will be comprised of players from the Padres minor league organization while the coaching chores will be falling to Roger Craig, Bob Skinner and Cliff Ditto.

San Diego's Opponent in the affair has yet to be decided between a team of players from Tijuana or a club from the Los Angeles area. The site of the contest will be Tijuana's new stadium out by the airport.

Despite the fact there still remains only nine weeks before the San Diego Padres open up their 1977 National League season, the club is within 8 of setting a record for season ticket sales.

Through Friday, the Padres sales total stood at 4,751, placing the club just 837 of last season's all-time high of 4,839. That figure represents a total of 1,336 full season tickets and 3,415 mini-season packages. At the moment, the Padres are running 1,133 ahead of last year's overall total at this same time of 3,618. The full season sales are up 292 from 1044 and the minis are up 841 from 2,574.

TAKE FIVE
By John E. Wirges

Bob Curran is a man of great warmth (most of the time), talent, deep seated interest in others and a generous out going personality.

Like reporters of old, Bob takes note on the backs of old envelopes, napkins, and wads of crumpled papers that seem to flow endlessly from his pockets.

Curran is a sports writer that went bad. He left the clean, honest employment of recording wins and losses, the sweet smell of physical combat, the excitement of pain and punishment in the name of athletic competition for the safety of the city room. Curran is a columnist. A city-side people writer.

And if that isn't bad enough, Bob does his thing in Buffalo, New York, the city that sunshine forgot.

As San Diego and the rest of the civilized world gets ready for spring training, or feels concern over the lack of progress in the players-owners squabble in the NFL and its accompanying lack of a college draft, Curran and his colleagues are concerned with sheer survival.

Now, all the world knows that Buffalo hosts but two seasons, July the Fourth and winter. That's not true, of course, it just seems like that when one lives there.

Buffalo has been favored this year with more than 15 feet of snow and that's measured in flat fall. When you add the wind zipping off Lake Erie and the low temperature, you can expect drifting to astronomical heights and chill factors down around 50 degrees below zero.

It's not what you'd call ideal golf weather. It ain't a place in which you'd like to go out and play. Buffalo social life in mid-winter is mostly centered around the kitchen table.

Conditions such as these tend to put a crimp in the whats and wherefores that an ex-sports-writer-turned-columnist must feed upon. The snow lays heavily on Curran typewriter.

Having grown up to full size in Buffalo, where one learns to enjoy the challenge of hearty living conditions, it was an easy task for this portable pounder to envision Curran's pre-occupation with ice, snow, cold, bitter winds and road blocking snow drifts.

But a man can lose sight of the "real" world when left too long with pressing problems of his own. One must break through the mental fog that envelopes the mind when suffering through the snow-bound season.

It was for the above mentioned reason I thought it would be a friendly gesture to share with Bob Curran some of the day-to-day living problems one encounters while making their home in beautiful San Diego.

"It is not all beer and skittles," I reassured him in a letter. "Think, as you trudge through your 15 feet of snow and daily blizzards, that sunshine also brings problems."

"Just as I was saying to my wife this morning," I wrote, "As we were picking oranges from our back yard tree for the breakfast table, 'we need rain,' I told her."

"It may not mean anything to you sitting back there in Buffalo, Bob," I typed, "but the grass on our back yard putting green is drying out and bunching up. It makes the balls roll off line. And our mid-winter crop of garden tomatoes are looking kind of peaked."

It was just a friendly note. I didn't want him to get too worried about us. That's why I didn't tell him about how visitors from back east and up north are crowding our 70-some odd golf courses or how our beaches and fishing boats are drawing record numbers.

I did mention, in passing, how visitors enjoyed watching the Andy Williams, San Diego Open from the great vantage point of the sixth hole of the north course at Ol' Torrey Pines. And how, with a pair of binoculars, they also got a clear shot of bathers on Black's Beach, the only legal nude beach in North America.

I figured that would give him something besides snow to think about. After all, what are friends for?

Prep Athletes Get Call In Indoor Games Feb. 18

When followers of high school track in San Diego County think of swift relays, schools like Lincoln, Morse and Patrick Henry have an enviable record.

The three schools will compete in the prep 640 relays at the 11th Jack in the Box Indoor Games Friday night, February 18, in the San Diego Sports Arena.

The relays are just part of a complete high school and open program featuring the top track athletes — current and future. Some of the world-class athletes already confirmed include high jump record holder Dwight Stones, sprinter Steve Williams and New Zealand two-miler Rod Dixon.

As for the high school relays, there will be three sections of both the 640 and mile relays.

In the second section of the sprint relay (one lap each on the 160-yard board surface), Lincoln and Patrick Henry square off with Southwest and Grossmont.

Morse runs in the first section against Chula Vista, Castle Park, and Vista.

In the second mile relay race, Crawford tangles with St. Augustine, San Diego, Mt. Miguel, El Cajon and Bonita Vista.

The meet starts at 5:45 with the first open event slated for 7:30.

Olympians
In the open 500, three members of the winning United States 1600-meter relay team at the Montreal Olympics, plus Maurice Peoples, will make up the field.

Relay gold medalists are Maxie Parks, who anchored the team, Herman Frazier and Benny Brown.

Frazier also won the bronze medal in the 400 at the 1976 Games.

Peoples supposedly has run one-lap faster than anyone else in track history, being clocked in an unofficial 43.4 for his anchor leg on Arizona State's winning NCAA male relay team a few years ago.

Peoples finished fifth in the Olympic trials, running on an injured achilles.

The San Diego track is very fast and was the site of a world record of 54.5 by Lee Evans in 1970. The time has never been touched on a standard 11-lap indoor course.

Sky-Grove Pony League Sign-Up Time is Saturday

Sky-Grove Pony League will hold registration Saturday, 9 a.m.-1 p.m. at Knapp Field (behind San Miguel Elementary, Lemon Grove). Try-out dates are February 19th and 26th 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Late signups may register and try out on these dates also at Knapp Field.

S.B. Brings Hex To SDSU Saturday

Robertson Gym on the campus of UC Santa Barbara has n't been the friendliest of places for the San Diego State U. basketball team.

The Aztecs are going to have to beat the Robertson hex and the Gauchos of UCSB, however, if San Diego State is to stay atop the PCAA. Game time in Santa Barbara is 8:05 p.m. Saturday.

State climbed into a first place tie in the PCAA race by winning a pair of home games over UCSB and Fullerton State last week, while co-leader Long Beach State was losing to Pacific and San Jose State on the road. The Aztecs are now 8-13 overall and 5-2 in the PCAA. Long Beach is tied with the Aztecs at 5-2.

St. Valentine Needs to Help Affair of Rare Indian Rhinos

Even rare Indian Rhinoceros have love troubles.

The San Diego Wild Animal Park reported attempts to get a rare Indian Rhino female shipped in from the Philadelphia Zoo to get interested in her male counterpart, a resident of the Park.

During the early hours of December 6, nearly two and a half months ago, a 5,000 pound rhinoceros named Golden Girl was routed from her home in the Philadelphia Zoo and shipped across country.

She had spent almost 20 years of her life with a "low key" and apparently celebrate male" rhino named Golden Boy.

Since there are about 900 Indian Rhinos alive in the world, most of which live in India and Nepal, officials thought attempts should be made to mate the young lady from Philadelphia with Lasai, the San Diego Wild Animal Park's resident Indian rhino.

The rhinos are not considered prolific breeders and the 60 odd animals in zoo collections are among the worst.

Lasai has been previously mated with another rhino named Jaypuri and the pair produced two offspring. But neither infants survived.

Officials hoped by sending Golden Girl to San Diego, the Wild Animal park would soon hear the thundering of little rhino feet.

Since last December the two female rhinos in the animal park have become friends but Golden Girl has shown little interest in Lasai.

According to park officials rhinos perform very aggressive behavior during the mating ritual.

"Golden Girl was either inexperienced or physically out of condition," said Park officials. "She apparently did not make the proper responses to her cues from Lasai."

"The courtship," continued officials, "became intensely aggressive and keepers standing by in trucks had to come to her rescue."

Since the last contact between Lasai and Golden Girl the pair have been making nose to nose contact.

And in the meantime Park officials are "sitting on pins and needles."

About Your Income Tax

Watch Check Writing IRS Recommends

The Internal Revenue Service warned taxpayers to make checks payable to "Internal Revenue Service", written or printed in a legible manner.

According to officials at the IRS Fresno Service Center, about ten per cent of the checks arriving at the Center are not made out in the proper manner to provide the most protection to the taxpayer.

Taxpayers who make their checks out incorrectly in leaving the payee line blank, writing illegibly, or making the check payable to "IRS" risk being billed later for a payment they have already made.

Officials pointed out that that initials "IRS" can easily be altered to read MRS XXX if the check falls into the wrong hands.

Another major problem is that many checks are received with the payee line left blank or written illegibly.

Center officials state that only a negligible number of such checks fall into the wrong hands and are altered. Still, taxpayers should avoid the problem by always filling in the payee line with "INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE" written or printed in a legible manner.

IRS Free Publications tax information is the tax package mailed recently to taxpayers.

In addition to answering many questions, the tax package includes order blanks for obtaining free publications from the IRS.

The publications cover a variety of topics including medical deductions, sick pay, interest expenses, child care credit, the Earned Income Credit, tax benefits for older Americans and how to apply for an extension of time to file.

Taxpayers can obtain these publications not only by filling out the handy order blank in the tax package, but also from a local IRS office.

Taxpayers who still have trouble with their return after checking the instructions and reading the publications can also visit an IRS office for free assistance.

Speeds Refunds

Taxpayers can receive their refunds faster by using the peel-off label attached to the tax package mailed out by the Internal Revenue Service.

The label, which appears on the cover of the package, lists name, address, and Social Security Number.

Incorrect addresses and Social Security Numbers can delay refunds.

The IRS emphasized that if any information on the label is incorrect, the taxpayer should make corrections right on the label.

Married taxpayers filing a joint return should check to see that two Social Security Numbers appear on the label. If only one Social Security Number is shown, the other spouse's number should be entered on the appropriate line.

A taxpayer can also insure a faster refund by mailing the return in the coded envelope also included with the tax package.

New Tax Table

Taxpayers filing the short Form 1040A will have to figure their standard deductions and exemptions.

The need for the added computations stems from the Tax Reform Act of 1976 which provides for a tax table to be used by all taxpayers having taxable incomes of $20,000 or less, the LRS explained.

The IRS said single persons are entitled to a minimum standard deduction of $1700 and married couples filing joint returns may take $2100.

The maximum standard deduction is 16 per cent of total income, up to a maximum of $2400 for single persons, and $2800 for married individuals filing joint returns, according to the IRS.

Environmental Studies Asked On Two Spring Valley Projects

The County of San Diego has received two draft environmental impact reports (EIR) for proposed projects in the Spring Valley area of the county.

One examines the impact of expanding the Mount Miguel Covenant Village, a retirement community, by 236 living units. The project proposes three 40 unit apartment buildings, eight units of four apartments on the 25 acre site at the corner of Wempton and San Carlos sts. in Spring Valley.

The other draft EIR studies the impact of a proposed project called Crestwood, a proposed subdivision of lots 2, 3, and 6 of the Sweetwater Village East, a large residential project. The Crestwood project proposes 180 lots on 43.2 acres north of Austin dr., east of Sweetwater Spring blvd., and west of Calavo dr. in the Spring Valley area.

Both EIR's for these projects are available for review at the County's Environmental Analysis Division, 9150 Chesapeake dr., San Diego; the Ecology Center, 340 Kalmia st. in San Diego; and the El Cajon, Encinitas, Fallbrook, Lemon Grove, Vista, Spring Valley and Casa de Oro branches of the County Library.

SDG&E Honors Orders

San Diego Gas and Electric Company has decided to honor money orders purchased from the now bankrupt Universal Money Order Company and comply with an earlier decision by the California Public Utilities Commission.

SDG&E President Robert Morris said the company has received some $100,000 worth of money orders.

Morris added, "In the belief that SDG&E's legal department is far better equipped to recover the amounts involved in those Universal Money Orders the company has received than the customers who bought them, we will use every legal remedy at our command to do just that."

Buses Roll Again for 7, 8 Graders

The Lemon Grove School Board decided Tuesday night to reinstate bus service to seventh and eighth graders who live two miles from school.

Based on recommendations presented to them from the Transportation Committee, chaired by board candidate Carol Chubb, the Board decided to lease a bus for a cost of about $4,000 to reinstate service through June.

The bus had to be leased since the one used up to last September had been phased out. Service for 7th and 8th graders was discontinued last September.

The Transportation committee also proposed a five year program of bus replacement.

A member of the committee told the board many of the district's buses were too old to be continued in service. The newest bus has over 90,000 miles on it.

"One of the buses we are talking about has a 1952 tank motor in it," said Herndon Douglas, a member of the committee. "I will do 35 miles per hour going down hill."

Committee chairman Carol Chubb said a replacement of the district buses would cost about $15,000 a year for five years and "this is 3/10ths of one per cent of the district's budget."

The Board concurred but amended to further study the fiscal implications of the proposal before deciding.

80 San Diego Scouts To Attend National Jamboree in August

Khaki-uniformed friends from Maine to Hawaii, some 80 from the San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be attending this year's National Scout Jamboree in Butler, PA.

According to City Attorney John Witt, Jamboree Committee Chairman, the jamboree is specifically designed this time "to offer boys a chance to learn leadership and program ideas which they can apply upon their return home to improve the quality of Scouting. It will be a once-in-a-lifetime experience for most of them."

A cavalcade of events will depict the heritage of Scouting and the range of its program for the nearly 40,000 young men and their leaders in attendance at the jamboree.

Major arena shows are scheduled for the opening night, August 3, and the closing night, August 9.

The arena shows will offer top name entertainment and a closing bombardment of fireworks. Other evening programs will feature youth-operated campfires on smaller scales. "But with all the events, thousands of young men will spend long hours trading patches and memorabilia, furthering international friendships with some of the 324 foreign Scouts who have been invited, and, beneath numerous colorful gateways, sharing the spirit of brotherhood."

Scouts interested in participating should contact the Scout Service Center at 298-6121.

Equity Loans Ready

Home Federal Savings and Loan Assn. now offers equity loans to residential property owners.

Equity loans represent a new concept; unlike traditional loans they do not have to be used for the purchase of homes alone. Equity of residential property is computed by subtracting the amount of money owned on a home from its current fair market value.

my professional life and I have a sincere interest in the community and its future. I endorse incorporation because I feel the citizens deserve better services for their tax dollar.

"As a councilman I would be as thrifty with expenditures as I have been with the L.G. Fire District, which provides one of the lowest tax rates in the county for a department with one of the highest underwriters ratings.

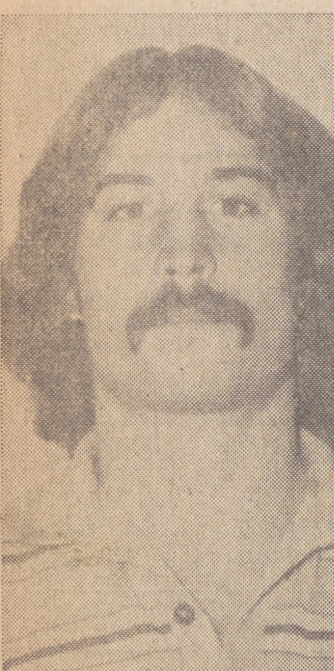

"Incidentally, the Fire Department board of directors will be dissolved when the community incorporates. The city council will take over the responsibilities of management of the department.

"As chairman of the L.G. Planning Assn. I grew to know the goals and objectives of the community and I would use my position on the council to aid in implementing these goals and objectives.

"School board duties require a strong knowledge of management and budgeting. It is interesting that the school district has a larger budget than an anticipated budget for the city. In city management as well as on the school board, members must be well-versed in the meaning of the myriad statutes under which council must operate.

A new city must have ordinances. I have no interest in becoming city attorney but my legal training would be useful in aiding the new city attorney in recommending and drafting ordinances and in the interpretation of the many state, federal and county statutes under which we will be operating.

"A major hazard the City of Lemon Grove might face could come from voters electing councilmen who do not have the proper background to govern a city. They will have the responsibility of selecting key personnel to run the city—such as city manager, city clerk, planning personnel, etc. The councilmen you elect will make these choices. Therefore, the council members you vote for must be picked with great care."

YOUTHFUL CANDIDATE — Rodger Price, 20, of 8269 Golden ave., a political science law student at San Diego State, has lived in Lemon Grove 8 years. He attended Palm Junior High school and Mt. Miguel where he was a California Scholastic Federation Life Member — an honorary scholastic organization. He is single and lives with his parents.

At State he is a Phi Sigma Alpha, an honorary political science college organization. He is on the water polo team at State and with a 3.4 grade point average was named Scholastic Athlete for the last two years. He was employed by the LEMON GROVE REVIEW for three years while in high school. He was also employed by Jim's U-Rent for a year.

"I have completed my major in political science and I am now doing special studies in political science and public administration which are designed to further my knowledge as a city councilman," Price said. "Most of the revenue for the city will come from our business firms — sales tax money. We must keep them thriving. That would alleviate the property taxes which have become so burdensome to property owners."

The city must encourage shoppers to stay at home and must promote the city to bring outsiders here. "One of the greatly needed projects is a youth oriented program. Other cities have them and it has a deterrent effect on juvenile crime. "The services now provided by the county can be acquired by contract and bid tailored to the express needs of the community. In my opinion, we can get better services for less money than the county now pays with its overstuffed departments.

"As councilman I will be responsive to all citizens. All complaints and problems must be handled immediately by the council. That is what it is elected for. I would use my voice on the council to insist that we hear the residents — and help them where it can be done within our budgetary limits."

SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATE FROM VLM — Paul Copeland, 22, of 3881 Massachusetts ave., an instructor of handicapped children in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School and Public Administration student at San Diego State U., is the youngest of 10 school board candidates.

Copeland spearheaded a drive to keep Vista La Mesa within the Lemon Grove boundaries when a reorganization election was held in that area in November. VLM went for La Mesa by a 3 to 1 vote.

He was born in Vista La Mesa and went through the Lemon Grove School District schools. He was graduated from Mt. Miguel High school in 1973.

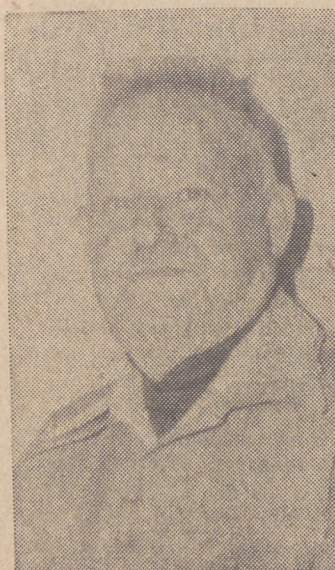

He is a member of the American Society of Public Administrators at State. He has been working on the L.G. incorporation campaign.

"While some candidates claim they are running so they may speak for the people I take the position that my part in the district's operation would be to help people to speak for themselves."

"Youthful enthusiasm and knowledge of the latest theories in administration—such as I have acquired in my State classes — would brighten the operation of the board of directors and be better aligned with the wishes of young parents whose youngsters are in the early grades. Being half-way between a student and a parent I can bring a better perspective to the board than any other candidate. No other candidate claims to have worked in the educational system but me."

"I believe the board could profit by my in-the-classroom training."

He is unmarried.

T. A. Parker, Jr., 58, is a retired mail carrier who lives at 1616 Woodrow ave. He served Lemon Grove postal patrons 14 years and La Mesa 13. Prior to that he was with the Railway Postal Service.

Parker is married (Ruth) and the couple has 3 children one of whom lives in Lemon Grove. All are married and have given the Parkers 8 grandchildren.

Parker has an AA degree from Grossmont College in Economics and Political History and is working on a BA degree at SD State U. He was manager at Capri Theatre for 6 years. More recently he became involved in real property and corporation bond investments. He now travels as time permits.

"I am not sold on incorporation but the people with whom I have talked want a councilman who will perform with restraint. There must be checks and balances in any government and my position would be to apply the brakes to programs that would endanger the homeowner with increasing tax burdens."

"I have attended the meetings sponsored by the self-appointed incorporation committee but I have not become convinced that we can operate a city of 2.64 square miles area with no place for industry."

"If the boundaries were expanded to take in some of the east county, incorporation would be more feasible."

"I support the views of other people on two issues: 1.) Our services at present are sufficient for what we can afford, and 2.) Our dependency on other bureaucratic government entities for future income is tenuous at best. These entities are already in trouble and returned income is drying up. Money coming from the state, for example, is becoming scarcer as the state spends more money on its own programs. That is true of the federal government, also."

"I will carry to the council my philosophy which includes thrift, free enterprise, equity of justice; taxation with representation; freedom of choice, and a common sense application which supersedes bureaucratic expertise."

"I want to protect our interests in regard to possibly holding down property assessment increases and bonded indebtedness should voters pass the incorporation issue."

CITY COUNCILWOMAN — Dorothea Bonsignore Du Bois, of 2212 Lawton dr., a retired educator of Grossmont Union High School District, is seeking a post on the council of the proposed City of Lemon Grove.

She was chairman of the Theatre Department and she taught English at Helix High School. She took up the same duties later at El Capitan where she was also librarian. She taught English at Monte Vista and Mt. Miguel.

She taught English and the Speech Arts for Adult School at Helix and served as Educational Placement Director at San Diego State. In this capacity she located jobs for local teachers all over the state. Her husband is Dr. Donald Du Bois, who is with the S.D. Health Care Agency. They have 5 grown children.

She was Director of Theatre at Southwest College and taught English there as well. "I first moved to Lemon Grove in 1948 and I have seen it grow. The community needs an identity factor. Until now we had no way of ascertaining where the boundaries are. You can't tell whether some streets and businesses are in the community or not. Incorporation would set the boundaries and we could start improving the quality of life and the community within these boundaries."

"Community identification is important to the pride of the residents. Pride is important to the success of any community. For example, I'd be able to say 'I live in Lemon Grove, I want to shop here. I want to go to a local church!'"

"I would hope for a cultural regeneration within the community rather than for residents to have to go elsewhere for it. I would support some of the beautification projects that would be desirable. I can see people getting together for the good of the city and for furthering programs that would keep us going in that direction. I am recognized as an outstanding organizer."

"Innovative programs to raise the consciousness-level of the citizens of a new city would be possible if incorporation is successful. It would be saying that the people want something better."

"As a person with the time to give and a strong desire to contribute to the enrichment of my community, I believe that I could serve on the council with abilities that are often lacking in small city government."

EYES COUNCIL POST — Wayne Buttrick, 36, lives at 2626 Sheri lane with his wife, Katherine, and two sons. The family has lived here 11 years and the youngsters attend San Miguel Elementary school.

Buttrick is a machinist at Solar and until recently he was a reserve fireman of the Lemon Grove Fire Department. He is chairman of Cub Scout Pack 338, San Miguel and is a parent helper in the Early Childhood Program at San Miguel. The couple are members of the school's PTA. He has been head usher at St. John of the Cross Catholic church for five years. He was in the Marine Corps four years.

He has 65 college credits with majors in criminology and industrial automation. "A councilman, I would insist that any services we obtain is preceded by a thorough investigation of the vendor. We should demand the quality of work that we pay for. Work should be obtained by bids so that we do not overpay. We are keepers of the taxpayers' funds and we must be as frugal with their money as we would be with our own."

"As we organize, we should take very slow, exploratory steps to make sure what we propose to do will be needed and effective. The County will be responsible for services for the fiscal year starting July 1 so we do not have to hurry into action."

"Many of my acquaintances have expressed concern over the possibility of parking meters, zoning that preclude horses, and rezoning for high rise construction. As councilman I would listen to every citizen who has cogent thoughts on these matters and I would attempt to follow the dictates of the majority. My personal feeling is that we should maintain the atmosphere here that exists now."

"Some residents fear that there will be a great concrete-laying program with sidewalks and curbs going in all over town. I think that will not come to pass. Sidewalks are needed in some areas — particularly near schools. These should be installed, but it can be done without raising the tax cost. "I urge all eligible voters to vote for 5 councilmen even though they might be voting against incorporation. The voter will then feel that he has had a voice in the city's future if the issue passes."

COUNCIL CANDIDATE — Bernard H. Brandt, 50, is a director of Christian Outreach, a non-profit, non-denominational organization which distributes bibles free.

He has lived at 2836 Cornelius place for the past 9 years. He spends all of his time with his work and in counseling people. He is also a member of the L.G. V.F.W. and the San Miguel School PTA. He served in the Army in the Philippines during WWII.

He and his wife, Irene, have one son, Robert, with whom Brandt is involved in Little League baseball.

Prior to becoming associated with Christian Outreach, Brandt was founder and president of Artistic Painting Co., a contracting firm. When he decided to join the bible group he gave his business to his nearest competitor under the agreement that his employees (6) would be given jobs."

"I believe my past experience in cost efficiency in running a competitive business successfully would be useful in serving the people of Lemon Grove as one of their councilmen."

"I have served on boards of directors on such organizations as churches where small budgets and great demands are frequent."

"I think we have a great opportunity here with a new city if it is run efficiently from scratch. We can profit from mistakes other small cities have made through providing more government than the community could afford."

"I would encourage volunteers to take part in certain parts of the operation of the city — particularly in the services element. That's where my experience would come in extremely well because much of my recent work has been with volunteers."

"My greatest asset, I feel, is my willingness to be responsive to the wishes of the people."

A citizen's input advisory group is the type of communication I have in mind. Such a group would contribute greatly to unifying the community. It would also contribute to an atmosphere in which our citizens could live in happiness and satisfaction."

FOR SCHOOL BOARD — Earl L. Slater, 33, a senior computer operator who lives at 1905 Sonoma ln., Lemon Grove, has lived in the district seven months and in San Diego County 20 years. Slater is an ex-military postal clerk whose tour of duty took him to the Orient after which he studied Eastern Philosophy and Religion of the East at San Diego Evening College.

"As a public servant I have dealt with people and their problems in property management and apartment leasing and I feel that I can look at all aspects of this society without bias."

This community (Lemon Grove) has a good growth potential and my experience and willingness to help resolve community problems should benefit the school system. People with problems are basically the same when it has to do with the educational process," he said.

"There are some extremes that need special concern and special programs—such as the handicapped. These should be dealt with on an individual basis," he said. Slater, working at the University of California after discharge from the military, served in church schools as a teacher and in civic groups as a leader.

He is a student of criminal justice and was graduated from SD Evening College with a degree in Psychology and a minor in Sociology.

For the past 5 years he has worked in property management. His hobbies include music (organist, vocalist) and is in the chorus at the Bethel Baptist church. He says the need for community involvement in schools is more vital now than ever before.

Slater is married. The couple expect their first child in July.

COUNCIL CANDIDATE — Lois Heiserman, 58, 1601 Cameron dr. has lived an active 23 years in Lemon Grove with her husband Raymond, a retired trouble-shooter for the telephone company. Their three adult children live away from home.

Both Mrs. Heiserman and her husband are charter members of EPIC (Effective Problem Intervention Center) at 3319 Buena Vista st. in Lemon Grove. EPIC aids those with various problems. It operates a hot-line; a counseling service and an emergency food aid program. Both she and her husband are on EPIC's board of directors.

She successfully operated the Merry Go Round Nursery School for 18 years and is now president of the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Nutrition Board, a post she has held since it started 5 years ago. She is a member of the Board of Christian Education of the Lemon Grove Congregational U. C. church.

She is past president of the LG-SV Soroptimist club and a charter member of the Citizens Advisory Council of Mt. Miguel High School — an elective position. She also served the L.G. Planning Assn. from 1971-1974. The Presidents Council of Women's Service, Business and Professional Clubs of San Diego County chose her at the Woman of Achievement in 1974 and the Soroptimist club to which she belongs presented her its Community Service Award for 1975-1976. As a forerunner to the election she served on the L.G. Incorporation Reorganization Committee, and on the Citizens for Incorporation Committee.

"My past service is indicative of the high interest I have for my community," she said. "I have interest in such things as pot holes but I have a deeper interest in the character of our young people. I have found that an ounce of prevention pays dividends. Thus, I would rather see our tax money spent on programs that help rather than on the expensive, and usually unworkable rehabilitation programs. It would be a better investment of tax money. "Because I have always worked energetically on community projects I now want to direct that energy for the benefit of citizens of the new city. As a member of council I would let people know that they can have a government that listens — a government that cares."

"The first council should be made up of people who can intelligently work together with each member being willing to give a little. We must be able to come to decisions without squabbling. In short, we must be able to communicate with each other as well as those who will be looking to us for leadership."

"I would support the idea of a town meeting so that the council could better respond to the determination of the residents who voted them into office."

"My record in various enterprises and organizations in this community is proof that my abilities would be an asset to city government. "As an example, the Nutrition Board was formed from 5 separate entities. They came into agreement because we kept the lines of communication open. I think no one could be critical of its present operation. In the formation there was both give and take. We discussed our differences with each other."

"That also makes a point that part of its success is that people believe in it. And they are more satisfied because those served by it can see their tax dollars at work in their own community."

"Inside every apartment building are homes that need protection."
